

Delco Arts Week 2019: Art and Culture Coming to a Neighborhood Near You

Posted By: David Bjorkgren Posted date: September 10, 2019

Culture is being celebrated in our own back yard for eight days in September.

The first-ever Delco Arts Week Sept. 21 to 28 features art exhibits, music and concerts, theater, dance, film and more.

Festivals, events and activities will take place at various locations throughout the county.

This week of local arts and culture includes exhibitions, workshops and children's activities, and new events continue to be added.

The complete schedule of the 50+ events – many with free admission – is available at DelcoArts.org.

Delco Arts Week is an opportunity for cultural institutions and arts organizations throughout the county to promote its collective resources to residents and visitors alike.

It is presented by the Delaware County Arts Consortium (DCAC) and the Greater Philadelphia Cultural Alliance, and is made possible by generous sponsorships from The Foundation for Delaware County and Visit Delco, PA.

The DCAC is a collaboration of cultural organizations working to advance the economic viability of the non-profit arts and culture community, promoting the value of cultural resources to the local community.

The Greater Philadelphia Cultural Alliance provides services and resources for the cultural sector.

The Foundation for Delaware County builds healthy communities and encourages philanthropy in Delaware County. It traces its history to the nonprofit Crozer-Keystone Health System and its affiliated hospitals

.Visit Delco PA is the tourism bureau for Delaware County, dedicated to promoting the county's hospitality and tourism industries.

To learn more about Delco Arts Week events and to see a full list of participants, visit DelcoArts.org.