Delco Arts Week Opens Tomorrow With Exhibits and Festivals and Runs Through Sept. 28

Come experience the Arts! Delaware County Arts Consortium and the Greater Philadelphia Cultural Alliance presents the first-ever Arts Week Sept. 21 to 28.

Sponsored by Visit Delco PA and the Foundation for Delaware County, Arts Week showcases a wide range of art around the county.

Visit DelcoArts.org and schedule times to experience music, dance, art, theatrical performances, arboretums, and much more. Enjoy the beauty and the history of art that is right here in Delaware County.

See artists painting live at scenic locations like Garrett Williamson in Newtown Square.

Listen to live music at Jazz and Art in the Park at the Sharon Hill Art & Culture Commission.

Many events are free. Others have a nominal entry fee. Locations and times are listed on the website.

Members of The Delaware County Arts Consortium include Jennifer Hoff, project manager for Arts Week, as well as committee members Eric Carter Thompson, William Conville, Harry Dietzler, and Jane Valdes-Dapena.

Arts Week sponsor, The Foundation for Delaware County, builds healthy communities and encourages philanthropy in Delaware County.
Visit Delco, PA, is the tourism bureau for Delaware County.

Don’t miss this opportunity to appreciate historical artifacts and exhibits that depict the talent and creativity of artists in our hometown. Be sure to bring your cell phone and scan the QR codes at each site to take a survey and share your comments about your visit.

Jennifer Hoff invites you to “Go and enjoy your community/ There is something for everyone!”
